

STAR FLEET ALERT

27 OCTOBER 2008

THE TRUTH ABOUT RPGS

PRIME DIRECTIVE FEDERATION

Those annoying do-gooders of the galaxy are here! Planetary surveys, starships, colonial development, new species templates, & more.

You have heard us announce the long-awaited "FEDERATION" books for our RPGs several times. Players ask us about them every day. You're all about as tired as we are of hearing one planned release date after another, after another, pass into the night. So, for the LAST time, this is the real release date for these two products:

PRIME DIRECTIVE: PD20 FEDERATION

Stock #8702, Retail price $24.95, release in January 2009

PRIME DIRECTIVE: GURPS FEDERATION

Stock #8402, Retail price $24.95, release in Spring 2009

You (and others) may well ask: Why should we believe you this time?

Well, you probably shouldn't (given our track record) and you probably won't until we actually release the books. Fair enough. What we can tell you is that the obstacles that have prevented these books from being released have been removed and the remaining work is fairly straightforward.

Our new RPG line editor (Jean Sexton) has completed the only thing she had to do before Federation (that being the just-released PD20 Modern version of Prime Directive, now in stores). Having Jean on board removes another obstacle, that our head designer was too busy to do them and didn't know much about RPGs anyway.

We have all of the text on hand, the files just have to be edited and laid out.

Jean's current pace envisions a complete book by mid-December, too late for us to ship this year, but we will ship the PD20 version in January and the GURPS version as soon as we have rules-text approval from Steve Jackson Games.

For Release in Jan-Spring 2009.
