

STAR FLEET ALERT

12 FEBRUARY 2009

AN UNUSUAL PRODUCT RELEASE

GALACTIC CONQUEST

Campaign for the Universe!

Galactic Conquest began as a project by a group of SFB staffers to produce a campaign environment for the Star Fleet Universe. It grew into multiple universes with hundreds of active players. GC includes exploration, diplomacy, conquest, economics, production, technology development — and, well, everything!

Over 20 years later, the longest-running SFU campaign engine has undergone a major update into the new Fourth Edition.

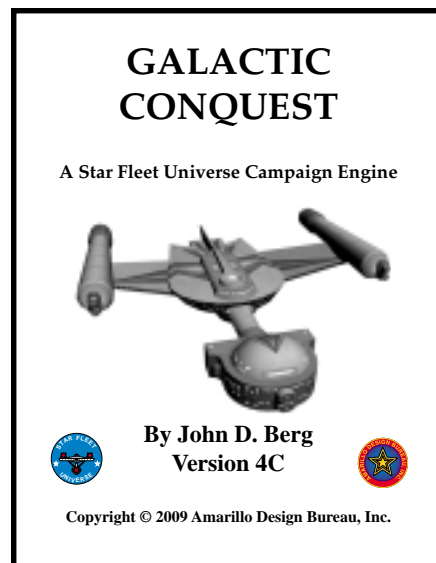

Players are already organizing new universes to explore and conquer using the new Fourth Edition rules for Galactic Conquest.

Special Order Status

The earlier rulebooks for Galactic Conquest were never available in print (only as PDFs), but the campaign operators decided to make a print edition available for collectors and for those who want to operate their own local campaigns.

This is not a “normal” product, and we recommend it for special order status, not regular stock. It has a black & white cover and is not really intended for retail stores, but if you have a customer who wants it, why should he not be able to order it through your store?

To be clear, we are making this available should your customers ask for it, but do not recommend stocking it as a normal product.
